BRYAN WOULD RUN AGAIN.

Reported He Will Issue Letter to That Effect.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—That William Jennings Bryan will, about the middle of November, issue a letter stating that if it is the wish of the democratic national convention that he should make the race for the presidency he will accept the post of standard bearer, was the information which reached St. Louis last night from an absolutely authoritative source.

In connection with the plans of Mr. Bryan, it is stated that Gov. Joseph W. Folk in a few days will announce his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Senator William J. Stone. Democrats, who have admired Gov. Folk for sending bootleggers to the penitentiary and for sending others out of the United States to escape indictment, and for his attitude on state's rights, had hoped that he would become the democratic candidate for president. Friends close to the chief executive, however, declare that the governor has repeatedly stated to them that he would not permit the use of his name in connection with the presidency as long as Mr. Bryan was being urged as the nominee.

KANSAS DELEGATION

Big Ranch Changes Hands.

Beaver City, Ok., Oct. 21.—Frank Laughlin of Beaver county has sold his big ranch near this city to W. H. McCune to become a banker. Laughlin has lived here for more than twenty-five years and made a fortune.

To Have Creamery.

Clinton, Ok., Oct. 21.—A stock company is being organized here to establish a $6,000 creamery. The proposed plant will handle 35,000 pounds of milk daily and manufacture 4,500 pounds of butter.

PILGRIMS TO WASHINGTON

Political Leaders Leaving for Capitol
---Republicans to Plead for Plums,
Incidentally to Deliver Constitution to Roosevelt---Democrats go to Push Statehood.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 22.—During the week many Oklahoma politicians will go to Washington. They go principally in regard to federal appointments in the new state, the federal judgeships being the principal plums to be doleed out.

Bird S. McGuire, the only republican elected to congress; State Chairman Charles Hunter and Joseph H. Norris, chairman of McGuire's campaign committee, leave today and will be followed soon afterward by Chief Justice John H. Burford, Gov. Frank Frantz, Judge W. H. H. Clayton of McAlester, Attorney General Cromwell and others.

Burford and Cromwell are the two principal candidates now for the federal judgeship in the western district of Oklahoma, and Clayton is active in the eastern district with numerous other aspirants. McGuire has endorsed Burford and Frantz is understood to be for Cromwell.

Robert L. Owen, United States senator-elect, is already in Washington, representing the new state democrats and he will be joined there, Wednesday by R. L. Williams of Durant, member-elect of the state supreme court. They desire to witness the presentation to President Roosevelt of the vote upon the Oklahoma constitution.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

Gossip of Two New Lines to Traverse New State.

Lawton, Ok., Oct. 22.—The Lawton, Wichita and Northwestern railroad, connecting Lawton with Wichita Falls, Tex., will soon become a reality. J. M. Bellamy, president of the road, with headquarters in Lawton, is now displaying the profiles and specifications to contractors, preparatory to receiving bids for the grading contracts. The engineers have just finished the work on the new right of way that becomes necessary when the route was changed to run through Randlett, in the Big Pasture. When the original survey missed Randlett it quickly raised $15,000 bonus to be paid when the road is completed. The money is now on deposit.

President Bellamy says he expects to begin grading work by Dec. 1. The road will not only connect Lawton with the big scope of country in the pasture reserve, but give a competing line into this city. The Katy is said to be back of the proposition, and that insures Lawton a direct communication with North Texas and the coal fields of Indian Territory. There will be two towns on the line in the Indian reserve land, Randlett and Emerson. Emerson was recently platted and sold by a townsite company.

FROM KANSAS TO HOUSTON.

Stole "Babies Pennies."

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 21.—Thieves entered the First Presbyterian church here last night and stole the "Babies Pennies" amounting to between $25 and $75. It was discovered this afternoon.

This was a fund donated to the church by the babies and children of the congregation on their birthdays. Each child would on its birthday bring a penny for each year and this was allowed to accumulate in a small deposit safe in the church. The safe was to be opened on New Year's Day. The money had accumulated since the first of the year and the church officers do not know just what the total amount was.

Ada Evening News

OTIS B. WEAVER, Editor and Owner
HOWARD PARKER, Associate Editor

Entered as second-class mail matter March 23, 1904, at the postoffice at Ada, Indian Territory under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

ENTITLED TO TWO MORE CONGRESSMEN.

The government's special census shows the state of Oklahoma entitled to two more congressmen than the five recently elected. Just at present the people will be mighty glad to see the five seated in the national body, but when once statehood is secured long-suffering Oklahomans will be disposed to go after everything coming to them.

Judge W. A. Ledbetter, of Ardmore, thus calls attention to the state's deserved representation in congress:

"The basis of representation is one congressman for each 196,000 inhabitants. The recent special census shows the new state to have a total population of 1,408,000. This clearly entitles us to seven members of congress. I am convinced that the proper effort on the part of our congressmen will secure for us the right to elect two additional congressmen at the next general election, which will be necessary for them to be elected from the state at large until after the next general census, when the state can be reapportioned. I believe that the additional representation can be secured, and that by mutual agreement between the two political parties one of the candidates for each party should come from either of the two territories that are to be merged in a state."

Don't neglect attending that mass meeting at the court house Tuesday night. That meeting should be the starter for a mighty movement for the removal of restrictions. With a strong lobby to help our congressmen bombard the coming congress the anguish of this fair land should be abated ere the winter is over.

Plans of McGuire.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 22.—Bird S. McGuire, congressman-elect from the first Oklahoma district, who departed yesterday for Washington, announced that he would pursue a fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission this winter looking to a reduction of freight rates in the new state. He will also urge the removal of restrictions on all Indian lands save the individual homestead, which would render the lands subject to taxation.

Mr. McGuire announced that he would personally take up the candidacy of Dr. Hugh Scott for appointment as Indian agent at Anadarko, succeeding the late John Blackman. He will be supported in this by Gov. Frantz, who also leaves shortly for Washington. Dr. Scott has been private secretary to Delegate McGuire, and is now private secretary to Governor Frantz.

It is also announced that Mr. McGuire will press for appointment as United States judge in the Western District of Oklahoma Judge Burford, who also has the indorsement of the Illinois and Indiana delegations in congress. When Gov. Frantz goes to Washington this week he will urge the appointment of W. O. Cromwell, present attorney general of Oklahoma. Cromwell is said to have the backing of the republican organization in the new state. State Chairman Hunter wants to be clerk of the new federal court, and it is understood is pooling his issues with Frantz in the indorsement of Cromwell. Hunter was in the president's rough rider regiment. In addition to the contest over the federal judgeship, both the governor and the congressman-elect desire the minority republican caucus nomination for the first legislature for United States senator.

The judgeship situation in the eastern district has not changed. There have been numerous delegations here seeking indorsements from Frantz, but it is known that he has uniformly denied all. If the Governor has determined on a man for the eastern district, he has not made it public.

Judge W. H. H. Cayton of McAlester, who is a member of the certifying board on the constitution, is an applicant, and will accompany Gov. Frantz to Washington in the delivery of Oklahoma's constitution.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING STAMPS

Son of Postmaster at Hart Confesses Theft of $50 Worth.

Monday night Postoffice Inspector Atkinson, of this district, brought in and delivered to the federal authorities in Ada, the 14-year-old son of ex-Postmaster Hart, who had confessed the theft of $50 worth of stamps from the postoffice at Hart, this county.

Following the youth's directions the stamps were found in a pile of cotton where he had concealed them.

The postoffice was burglarized and the stamps taken Sept. 9. Soon afterward the boy got to corresponding considerably with advertisers, and sending stamps away for all sorts of advertised trinkets, to such an extent as to arouse the suspicions of the local postmaster who informed the inspector. As a result one of his letters was intercepted, and when accosted by the officer he broke down and confessed all.

Waiving arraignment and pleading guilty the young prisoner was held to await action of the grand jury now sitting at Pauls Valley, his bond being set at $500.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and yellow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

SESSION OF COUNCIL.

Several Ordinances Considered—usual Batch of Bills.

Mayor Barton got back from Pauls Valley in time to preside, and six councilmen were present at Monday night's regular session of the city council.

After pending several weeks, the ordinance forbidding the storage of gasoline, gunpowder, and like dangerous commodities in dangerous quantities and places was finally passed.

Two other ordinances were read for the first time. One attempts to restrain the enthusiasm of cabmen and street vendors at railroad stations. The other is aimed against spitting, drinking and other objectionable conduct in public places.

A budget of bills aggregating about $250 against the city was allowed.

The appointment of another watchman to succeed J. B. Gotcher, resigned, coming up the names of A. P. Holman and S. H. Hargis were presented as applicants. The vote was three for Holman, two for Hargis, one not voting. Since it takes a vote of five councilmen to elect, the matter went over till next meeting.

BAPTIST PAPER TO BE PUBLISHED IN ADA

Another paper for Ada is to materialize in the very near future. It is not a secular publication, but a religious weekly, projected as the organ of the Baptist denomination in the new state of Oklahoma, and to be christened the "Oklahoma Baptist Journal."

The enterprise has its origin with leading Baptists of Ada, including both ministers and laymen, who realize the pressing need of a state denominational paper. It is hoped to place the project strong on its feet when the State Baptist convention meets in Ardmore Oct. 31, by means of organizing a joint stock company.

In order to stir up enthusiasm in this undertaking the initial number of the paper will be printed next week, 2500 copies to be mailed out and distributed at the convention. A. M. Croxton will be the temporary editor.

Mr. Croxton, Revs. T. B. Harrell and D. J. Austin, Henry M. Furman, and Carlton Weaver are the prime movers in the enterprise. They have issued a prospectus in the form of a circular letter, giving details of the plan, which has been mailed to Baptist people throughout the state.

The News Printing company has agreed to publish the "Journal" at actual cost, and the above named gentlemen guarantee the publication of the paper for one year.

The Baptists need a state paper. Ada is a good place to publish it in, and to the credit of Ada, be it said there reside here in Ada Baptists of talent, men of ample ability to conduct and manage a denominational organ creditable to the church and to the state.

WHITE MULETEERS MAY KICK

City Ordinance Introduced Which Tends Strongly Toward Prohibition.

At last night's session of the city council, City Attorney T. P. Holt submitted an ordinance on general cleanliness which contains a notable clause. Beginning with an innocent and ordinary prohibition of spitting on stairways and other public places, there follows this interesting section:

"Section 2.—That it shall be unlawful for any person to resort to the stairways or to the water closets in said city of Ada, for the purpose of drinking 'Tin-Top,' 'Uno,' 'White Mule,' or any other like drink, so called 'Territorial drinks.'"

And the offense is made punishable by a fine of any sum not exceeding $10.

This section two is likely to raise a storm of protest among the dipsomaniacs who will view this regulation as an unwarranted extension of the prohibition law, a tyrannical encroachment upon the last vestige of "personal liberty" in Indian Territory. For, through immemorial usage, by right of prescription, so to speak, has not the down town closet become recognized as the "white mule" garage, the Peruna club house, the boozier's buffet? Indeed it might be argued that many of these closets are not fit for anything else.

There will be ample time, however, for those dissatisfied with this rigorous measure to file their protest. The ordinance will not put upon its final passage before next month.

FOOTBALL RUDE: YOUTH A DRIFTER

Man Who Can Play Is Denied Right by His Father.

From Oklahoma.

Sam Lefever, former fullback of Michigan's second football team and until last Thursday a candidate for Bennie Owen's Sooners, is now seeking entrance to Epworth's medical school.

Parental objections to football playing are the reasons for Lefever's many changes of schools. His father thinks it a rude, rough game.

While at Michigan, young Lefever entered into the sport with vim and was accounted one of the best men on Yost's second squad. This summer Michigan, Purdue, Illinois and Chicago fairly bombarded him with letters and his father learned that the son was playing football.

His college career in Michigan was cut short and Dr. Lefever, the father, went to Chicago on a trip. Then the Sooners got the son to enter Oklahoma and he was slated for fullback against Kansas, but again the pater stepped in and one day before the Kansas-Oklahoma contest Sam Lefever was taken from school and hurried to his home in Ada.

Now he is in Oklahoma City and said to become a doctor by studying in Epworth's medical school.

He will not play football, so his father says, although Coach Walter Chorn would like to have him in his line-up next Friday when the Methodist meet the Sooners at Colcord park.

Big Birds on Small Wings.

In the attempt to discover some universal law of bird flight, scientists have disclosed concerning a number of species a most puzzling paradox, perhaps the most mysterious of the enigmas that the subject presents, says a writer in Everybody's Magazine. It is that in a number of birds and insects the size of the wings decreases in proportion to the increase in size of the body of the flying creature. The Australian crane, for instance, weighs over 300 times more than the sparrow, but in proportion has only one-seventh the wing area of the smaller bird. This curious fact is equally striking if we compare birds with insects. If the gnat were increased in size until it was as large as the Australian crane and if the wings of the insect were enlarged to maintain the proportion they now bear to its body, they would be about 150 times larger than the crane's. It requires 3.62 square feet of wing surface per pound of body. The albatross, weighing 18 pounds, has a spread of wing of 11 feet and 6 inches, while the trumpeter swan, weighing 28 pounds, has a spread of wing of only eight feet. The stork weighs eight times more than the pigeon, but in proportion has only half as much wing surface.

Theodore Shonts reaches up into some mysterious store of universal information and, having grabbed off a handful of more or less canned wisdom, lays down a few qualities that a man should have before a girl should think of marrying him, says Chicago News. Briefly, the description of the only man fitted for wedlock is this: He should be perfect mentally, morally and physically and also be some pumpkin financially. Mr. Shonts may be right, but as there are only a few for that kind of man would first take a bargain counter, the great majority of the girls will have to accept husbands with a few flaws or go single. Of course the girl who was waiting for that kind of man would first take the trouble to be perfect herself, but that might be a simple matter for her. Even then she might be happy with a man having imperfections provided she was too polite to notice them. The sensible girl figures it out that the best she can get is the average man and makes up her mind to be happy with him if he will let her.

The Simple Life.

Wellington was one of the earliest exponents of the simple life. His sleeping chamber was plainness and simplicity itself. He always slept on a small camp-bed, was ever temperate and careless in his diet, and frequently stated that he believed his good health was due to the three years he spent under canvas in India, when he ate little but rice and drank scarcely any wine, says the New York Weekly. He continued to eat rice to the day of his death. He ate it with meat and almost with everything, and his intimate friends took care always to place a dish of rice on the table when he dined with them. He scarcely knew one wine from another, and could not discern bad butter from good. His indifference in the matter of food was proverbial, a contrast to the present day, when diet forms one of the principal subjects of conversations.

Shipping men of both sides of the Atlantic have been much gratified by the announcement that the treasury department is taking for bids for the derelict destroyer which was authorized by the latest congress. This vessel, which is to be stationed on the North Atlantic, will embody the latest improvements in craft of her kind, and will be capable of cruising for 5,000 miles without replenishing her bunkers. She will be furnished, the Scientific American says, with powerful searchlights and a wireless telegraph equipment, the latter to enable her to receive and give information as to the location of derelicts.

A 54-foot residence lot in New York is described by a local paper as "tremendously large." That may be a good sized frontage for little old New York, but it would be cramped quarters in the west, where people really live.

ARE PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS NOSTRUMS?

To one not qualified, and few laymen are, to discriminate intelligently between physicians' prescriptions, proprietary medicines and nostrums, it may seem little short of a crime to hint even that physicians' prescriptions are in any manner related to nostrums; nevertheless, an impartial examination of all the facts in the case leads irresistibly to the conclusion that every medicinal preparation compounded and dispensed by a physician is, in the strict sense of the word, a nostrum, and that the average, ready-prepared proprietary remedy is superior to the average specially-prepared physicians' prescription.

What is a nostrum? According to the Standard Dictionary a nostrum is "a medicine the composition of which is kept a secret." Now, when a physician compounds and dispenses with his own hands a remedy for the treatment of a disease—and it is authoritatively stated that probably 60 per cent. of all physicians' prescriptions in this country are so dispensed—the names and quantities of the ingredients which constitute the remedy are not made known to the patient. Hence, since its composition is kept a secret by the physician, the remedy or prescription is unquestionably, in the true meaning of the word, a Simon-pure nostrum. Furthermore, the prescription compounded by the average physician is more than likely to be a perfect jumble—replete with therapeutic, physiologic and chemical incompatibilities and bearing all the earmarks of pharmaceutical incompetency; for it is now generally admitted that unless a physician has made a special study of pharmacy and passed some time in a drug store for the purpose of gaining a practical knowledge of modern pharmaceutical methods, he is not fitted to compound remedies for his patients. Moreover, a physician who compounds his own prescriptions not only deprives the pharmacist of his just emoluments, but he endangers the lives of patients; for it is only by the detection and elimination of errors in prescriptions by clever, competent prescriptionists that the safety of the public can be effectually shielded from the criminal blunders of ignorant physicians.

Nor can it be said that the average physician is any more competent to formulate a prescription than he is to compound it. When memorized or directly copied from a book of "favorite prescriptions by famous physicians," or from some text-book or medical journal, the prescription may be all that it should be. It is only when the physician is required to originate a formula on the spur of the moment that his incompetency is distinctly evident. Seemingly, however, the physicians of the United States are little worse than the average British physician; for we find Dr. James Burnett, lecturer on Practical Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Edinburgh, lamenting in the Medical Magazine the passing of the prescription and bemoaning the fact that seldom does he find a "final man" able to devise a prescription even in "good contracted Latin."

And what, it may be asked, is the status of the written prescription—the prescription that is compounded and dispensed by the pharmacist—is it, too, a nostrum? It may be contended that the patient, with the written formula in his possession, may learn the character of the remedy prescribed. So, possibly, he might if he understood Latin and were a physician or a pharmacist, but as he usually possesses no professional training and cannot read Latin, the prescription is practically a dead secret to him. Furthermore, the average prescription is so badly written and so greatly abbreviated that even the pharmacist, skilled as he usually is in deciphering medical hieroglyphs, is constantly obliged to interview prescribers to find out what actually has been prescribed. It may also be contended, that inasmuch as the formula is known to both physician and pharmacist the prescription cannot therefore be a secret. But with equal truth it might be contended that the formula of any so-called nostrum is not a secret since it is known to both proprietor and manufacturer; for it must not be forgotten that, according to reliable authority, 95 per cent. of the proprietors of so-called patent medicines prepared in this country have their remedies made for them by large, reputable manufacturing pharmacists. But even should a patient be able to recognize the names of the ingredients mentioned in a formula he would only know half the story. It is seldom, for instance, that alcohol is specifically mentioned in a prescription, for it is usually masked in the form of tinctures and fluid extracts, as are a great many other substances. It is evident, therefore, that the ordinary formulated prescription is, to the average patient, little less than a secret remedy or nostrum.

On the other hand, the formulae of nearly all the proprietary medicines that are exploited exclusively to the medical profession as well as those of a large percentage of the proprietary remedies that are advertised to the public (the so-called patent medicines) are published in full. Under the Food and Drugs Act, every medicinal preparation entering interstate commerce is now required to have the proportion or quantity of alcohol, opium, cocaine and other habit-forming or harmful ingredients which it may contain plainly printed on the label. As physicians' prescriptions seldom or never enter interstate commerce they are practically exempt under the law. And if it be necessary for the public to know the composition of proprietary remedies, as is contended by those who through ignorance or for mercenary reasons are opposing the sale of all household remedies, why is it not equally necessary for patients to know the composition of the remedy prescribed by a physician? Does any sane person believe that the opium in a physician's prescription is less potent or less likely to create a drug habit than the opium in a proprietary medicine? As a matter of fact, more opium-addicts and cocaine-fiends have been made through the criminal carelessness of ignorant physicians than by any other means.

Unquestionably, there are a number of proprietary remedies on the market the sales of which should be prohibited, and no doubt they will be when the requirements of the Food and Drugs Act are rigidly enforced; many are frauds, pure and simple, and some are decidedly harmful. Of the average proprietary remedy, however, it may truthfully be said that it is distinctly better than the average physicians' prescription; for not only is its composition less secret, but it is prepared for the proprietor by reputable manufacturing pharmacists in magnificently equipped laboratories and under the supervision and advice of able chemists, competent physicians and skillful pharmacists. It should not be considered strange, therefore, that so many physicians prefer to prescribe these ready-prepared proprietary remedies rather than trust those of their own devising.

ALL RELIGIONS IN LONDON.

Faithist Community Latest Addition to Its Queer Sects.

The Faithist community which has established a modest footing in Baltham, and whose comprehensive gospel ranges from the creation of man to the "glory and labors of the gods and goddesses of the Ethernian heavens," is the latest addition to the long list of London's religious sects, which are now almost as many as the days of the year. In London the Chinaman burns his incense stick in more than one joss-house in the east end, the Mahometan has his mosque, the Malayan his temple, near St. George's street east; the Parsees worship the sun in Bloomsbury, the Mormons have a mission in Islington, and in many parts of the metropolis the Buddhists and Ancestor Worshipers perform their strange rites. Of Christian sects in London there are at least 300, including the Coklers, the disciples of William Sirgood, the Walworth shoe-maker; the Peculiar People, who prefer prayer to physicians; the Sandemans, the followers of Joanna Southcott, the prophetic serving maid; the Shakers and the Seventh Day Baptists.

WOMEN IN MEDIEVAL TIMES.

In Many Ways They Had Easier Lives Than Their Descendants.

The women of the sixteenth century and earlier times had easier lives than those of our generation. To be sure, there are a hundred labor saving devices today which were unknown to them. But in at least two important respects they had the advantage over their descendants. They waged no conflict against dirt such as we carry on from morning till night. The Elizabethan had no prejudice against garbage in his front yard, vermin in his bedroom, decaying rushes on the floor of his banquet hall, or soiled lace in his sleeves. The strength of arm and spirit which now goes to keeping clean was left to the medieval lady for other tasks. Moreover, although her clothing was gorgeous—rich with embroidery and lace, and heavy with jewels—it was not subject to rapid changes of fashion. The cut of a sleeve or the hang of a skirt was settled for five years rather than five months. Life was then free from the modern terror of "looking like a last year's rag bag." —Youth's Companion.

THE LOAD OF THE LAZY.

This Man Worked Hard in His Own Particular Way.

One of the neighborhood loafers sat comfortably smoking his foul pipe, according to his daily custom, in the prescription room of a drug store. He was soliloquizing aloud to the clerk. Here is a sample of his sound, contented philosophy: "I'll tell you what! A man is mighty miserable if he ain't got nothin' to do, when he ain't workin' at somethin'. I know it—I've tried both ways an' I find that there ain't nothin' that makes a man more miserable than doin' nothin'. But, you know, there's two kinds of work; one of them is where a feller goes to work at six in the mornin' an' works with his hands till six at night. The other is where a feller sits around an' thinks. I ain't never happy unless I'm workin', but I don't believe in that first kind of work. I believe in thinkin' all day long, an' that's harder than the other kind, I can tell you—you just try it if you don't believe me; a man is mighty miserable when he ain't workin'."

In Praise of the Pie.

Laura Simmons tells in an article why good New Englanders should stick to pie, and calls attention to the fact that Emerson ate it three times a day, and says that pie is the ladder by which New England has climbed to its place of proud eminence. She questions whether any sensible person was ever known to forage at the midnight hour for predigested cereals or the innocuous prune. She does not believe that many New England ancestors died of apoplexy, due to pie, but counsels all to go on pie-eating, despite the fact that the flat has gone forth that it is vulgar to eat pie.

TRY THIS ASPARAGUS LOAF.

New and Delicious Way of Preparing the Vegetable.

Cook three cups of asparagus tips until tender, then drain. Cream two teaspoons each of flour and butter; add one-half teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and a cup of hot milk. Add the milk slowly, stirring all the time. Cook for five minutes. Remove from the range; add four well-beaten eggs, a cup of asparagus tips and a teaspoon of chopped parsley. Butter well a small bowl and line it with the remainder of the asparagus tips. If the tips will not adhere readily to the sides of the bowl dip them in the sauce. Now pour in the asparagus and sauce; cover with a piece of oiled paper; stand bowl in hot water and cook in cool oven for 15 minutes. Turn out of the bowl and serve with the following sauce:

Beat two teaspoons of butter to a cream; beat in the yolks of two eggs, one at a time, and beat with the butter very thoroughly. Add also a few grains of the salt and pepper. Place the bowl containing this over hot water and add slowly a cup and a half of boiling water. As soon as the mixture thickens remove and add a tablespoon of lemon juice.

DIRECTIONS FOR VEAL SAVORY.

Is Appetizing Dish if Prepared in Proper Manner.

Veal savory, according to Vogue, is after these directions: Cut three pounds of raw veal and half as much ham into small pieces. Cut six hard-boiled eggs into slices, lay part of them in the bottom of a well-buttered earthenware dish (it must be rather deep), sprinkle with a little minced parsley, then put in a layer of the veal and ham, with salt and pepper to season. Proceed with these alternate layers until all is used, then add just enough water to cover it, and one tablespoonful of butter rolled in one tablespoonful of flour and divided into tiny portions, dotted over the top. Tie a buttered paper over the dish and bake one hour or a little longer in a good oven. Remove the paper, lay a plate over the meat with a weight to keep it in place and let it remain another hour in a very slow oven. When quite cold turn it out on a silver dish and garnish with small lettuce leaves filled with a spoonful of cold cooked peas dressed with a little mayonnaise.

Egg Salad.

While this is a little too hearty for a dinner salad, it is just the thing for the Sunday night supper. Boil the eggs hard, remove the shells, cut in halves crosswise or lengthwise, and take out the yolks. Mash the yolks, using a silver fork; then season with minced chow-chow with a little of the mustard sauce from the bottle, a little melted butter, salt and pepper, and if desired minced olives. Return to the whites of eggs, arrange on a bed of lettuce or cress, dress with French dressing or mayonnaise. If no olives have been used in filling of the eggs, a few olives or pinolas scattered over the salad add to its decoration.

Nasturtium Salad.

This is a delightfully spicy salad and most decorative for the Sunday or company dinner. Pick a goodly number of leaves and blossoms, wash well in cold water and shake dry. Arrange in a shallow glass dish, leaves and flowers forming a border and stems running to the center of the dish. Take two or three cold boiled potatoes and slice thin. Take an equal number of tomatoes and slice. Then arrange potatoes and tomatoes in alternate circles, covering the stems of the nasturtiums and sprinkle with a little minced onion and parsley. Dress with French dressing and serve very cold.

To Can Beets.

Small beets are the best for canning. Wash as for present use, and leave an inch of stalk at top to prevent bleeding. Boil in slightly salted water; peel as for the table. Have ready in a neighboring saucepan enough cider vinegar to cover the beets. You must use your own judgment as to quantity. To each quart of vinegar add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of strained onion juice and a teaspoonful each of pepper and salt. Bring the vinegar to the boil. Pack the beets while hot into heated cans and cover with the vinegar from the boiling saucepan.

Raspberry Popovers.

Beat three eggs light, but not as light as for cake; add two cupfuls of milk and beat again, then add two cupfuls of sifted flour, a little salt and beat all smooth. Pour into hot buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven. Take from the oven when done and with a sharp knife split one side and fill with sweetened raspberries. Dust powdered sugar over and serve at once.

Stuffed Red Peppers.

Cut some large red peppers into half lengthwise, and take out the seeds; make two cupfuls of fine, soft bread crumbs, moisten with half a cup of cream, season with salt and pepper, and add two chopped fresh mushrooms or more. Put into a shallow pan, drop a bit of butter on each, and bake till light brown.—Harper's Bazar.

Keep Pie Juice from Running.

When baking fruit pies take a strip of white muslin, about an inch and a half wide. Dip it in iced water; put it around the edge of the pie, and not one drop of juice will escape. The cloth easily is removed after pie is baked.

FULLY UP WITH THE TIMES.

Oklahoma City Surprised Narrow-Minded New Yorker.

Oklahoma amazes an easterner. The wide, asphalted streets, the plate glass fronts of department stores, the clean sidewalks, the well-dressed, unburied shoppers, the finish, the metropolitan air you find in Oklahoma City, for example, seem marvels to find in a territory only 17 years old. But do not say so.

A New Yorker who went there on business complained that fate was thrusting him into a wilderness, and his Oklahoma associates could not reassure him. But coming down to breakfast the first morning, at his hotel in Oklahoma City, he stared around in wonder as he entered the dining-room.

"This," he exclaimed, "this is Oklahoma! Why, do you know?" confidentially, "I even found a porcelain bathtub in my room."

"Well," said an Oklahoman, drily, "don't you have those in New York?"

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING.

Rash Covered Face and Feet—Would Cry Until Tired Out—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most, especially nights. They would cause her to be broken in her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm, as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Mrs. Hattie Currier, Thomaston, Me., June 9, 1906."

He Was Not to Blame.

Little Bartholomew's mother overheard him swearing like a mule driver, says the Cleveland Leader. He displayed a fluency that overwhelmed her. She took him to task, explaining the wickedness of profanity as well as its vulgarity. She asked him where he had learned all those dreadful words. Bartholomew announced that Cavert, one of his playmates, had taught him. Cavert's mother was straightway informed and Cavert was brought to book. He vigorously denied having instructed Bartholomew, and neither threats nor tears could make him confess. At last he burst out: "I didn't tell Bartholomew any cuss words. Why should I know how to cuss any better than he does? Hasn't his father got an automobile, too?"

The Manchester canal was built at a cost of $75,000,000 to reduce freight rates for a distance of 35 miles, and, while it did not prove a good interest bearing investment on such a large expenditure, its indirect and more permanent benefits are said to have warranted it.

Germany has 3,000 miles of canal, carefully maintained, besides 7,000 miles of other waterway. France, with an area less than we would consider a large state, has 3,000 miles of canal; and in the northern part, where the canals are most numerous, the railways are more prosperous. England, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium are all contemplating further extension and improvement of their canal systems.—Century Magazine.

Punishment by Inches.

A Bergen (Genesee county) justice of the peace has adopted an original scheme for the dispensation of justice. Henry Meyer, 27 years old and seven feet two inches tall, was a prisoner in his court for stealing four bags of oats. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail, one day for each inch of stature and one for each bag.—Nunda (N. Y.) News.

WHAT'S THE USE?

To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy.

Fasters have gone without food for many days at a time but no one can go without sleep. "For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman. "Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drunk coffee and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it. "My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach and I would often notice him getting soda from the can to relieve the distress in his stomach; lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief. "Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee and since then has been drinking Postum in its place and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach."

Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it. Coffee is not suspected in thousands of cases just like this but it's easily proved. A ten day's trial works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Rule of Cornish Chapels. In Cornish (Eng.) chapels the invariable rule is for the men to sit on one side of the building and the women on the other.

A visitor and his fiancée, who are staying in the district, went to chapel, and just before the service began the young man was greatly astonished when the chapel steward, observing that the couple were seated in the same pew, came over to him and, in an audible voice, said: "Come on out of that, me son; we don't ave no sweethearts 'ere."

Fresh Fuel.

The scrap between the married couple had died down to a few listless mutterings, and the canary bird in the cage was beginning to think about singing again, when she remarked, as a sort of afterthought:

"At any rate, everybody in my family thinks I am very intelligent."

"Yes, by the side of them you are," he replied with a bitter snort.

After this the scrap was renewed jubilantly.

BRYAN WOULD RUN AGAIN.

Reported He Will Issue Letter to That Effect.

St. Louis Mo. Oct 20—That William Jennings Bryan will about the middle of November, issue a letter stating that if it is the wish of the democratic national convention that he should make the race for the presidency he will accept the post of standard bearer was the information which reached St. Louis last night from an absolutely authoritative source.

In connection with the plans of Mr. Bryan it is stated that Gov. Joseph W. Folk in a few days will announce his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Senator William J. Stone. Democrats who have admired Gov. Folk for sending bootleggers to the penitentiary and for sending others out of the United States to escape indictment and for his attitude on state's rights, had hoped that he would become the democratic candidate for president. Friends close to the chief executive however, declare that the governor has repeatedly stated to them that he would not permit the use of his name in connection with the presidency as long as Mr. Bryan was being urged as the nominee.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

Consolidation of Two New Lines to Traverse New State.

Lawton, Ok. Oct 22—The Lawton Wichita and Northwestern railroad, connecting Lawton with Wichita Falls, Tex. will soon become a reality. J. M. Bellamy, president of the road with headquarters in Lawton is now displaying the profiles and specifications to contractors preparatory to receiving bids for the grading contracts. The engineers have just finished the work on the new right of way that becomes necessary when the route was changed to run through Randall in the Big Pasture. When the original survey missed Randall it quickly raised $15,000 bonus to be paid when the road is completed. The money is now on deposit.

President Bellamy says he expects to begin grading work by Dec 1. The road will not only connect Lawton with the big scope of country in the pasture reserve, but give a competing line into this city. The Katy is said to be back at the proposition, and that insures Lawton a direct communication with North Texas and the coal fields of Indian Territory. There will be two towns on the line in the Indian reserve land. Randall and Emerson. Emerson was recently platted and sold by a townsite company.

This road connects with the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railroad, another branch now building into Frederick from Wichita Falls.

Each child would on its birthday bring a penny for each year and this was allowed to accumulate in a small deposit safe in the church. The safe was to be opened on New Year's Day. The money had accumulated since the first of the year and the church officers do not know just what the total amount was.

SESSION OF COUNCIL

Several Ordinances Considered—usual Batch of Bills.

Mayor Barton got back from Pauls Valley in time to preside and six councilmen were present at Monday night's regular session of the city council.

After pending several weeks the ordinance forbidding the storage of gasoline, gunpowder, and like dangerous commodities in dangerous quantities and places was finally passed.

Two other ordinances were read for the first time. One attempts to restrain the enthusiasm of cabmen and street vendors at railroad stations. The other is aimed against spitting, drinking and other objectionable conduct in public places.

A budget of bills aggregating about $250 against the city was allowed.

The appointment of another watchman to succeed J B Gotcher resigned coming up the names of A P Holman and S H Hargis were presented as applicants. The vote was three for Holman two for Hargis one not voting. Since it takes a vote of five councilmen to elect the matter went over till next meeting.

BAPTIST PAPER TO BE PUBLISHED IN ADA

Another paper for Ada is to materialize in the city in a future. It is not a secular publication, but a religious weekly projected as the organ of the Baptist denomination in the new state of Oklahoma and to be christened the Oklahoma Baptist Journal.

The enterprise has its origin with leading Baptists of Ada including both ministers and laymen who realize the pressing need of a state denominational paper. It is hoped to place the project strong on its feet when the state Baptist convention meets in Ardmore Oct 31 by means of organizing a joint stock company.

In order to stir up enthusiasm in this undertaking the initial number of the paper will be printed next week 1,500 copies to be mailed out and distributed at the convention. A M Croxton will be the temporary editor.

Mr Croxton Revs T B Harrell and D J Austin Henry M Furman and Carlton Weaver are the prime movers in the enterprise. They have issued a prospectus in the form of a circular letter giving details of the plan which has been mailed to Baptist people throughout the state.

The News Printing company has agreed to publish the Journal at actual cost and the above named gentlemen guarantee the publication of the paper for one year.

The Baptists need a state paper. Ada is a good place to publish it in and to the credit of Ada he said there reside here in Ada Baptists of talent men of ample ability to conduct and manage a denominational organ creditable to the church and to the state.

City Ordinance Introduced Which Tends Strongly Toward Prohibition.

At last night's session of the city council, City Attorney T P Holt submitted an ordinance on general cleanliness which contains a notable clause. Beginning with an innocent and ordinary prohibition of spitting on stairways and other public places, there follows this interesting section:

"Section 2.—That it shall be unlawful for any person to resort to the stairways or to the water closets in said city of Ada, for the purpose of drinking Tin Top Uno, White Mule, or any other like drink, so called Territorial drinks.

And the offense is made punishable by a fine of any sum not exceeding $10.

This section two is likely to raise a storm of protest among the dissemblers who will view this regulation as an unwarranted extension of the prohibition law a tyrannical encroachment upon the last vestige of personal liberty in Indian Territory. For, through immemorial usage, by right of prescription so to speak, has not the down town closet become recognized as the white mule garage the Peruna club house the boozers buffet? Indeed it might be argued that many of these closets are not fit for anything else.

There will be ample time, however for those dissatisfied with this rigorous measure to file their protest. The ordinance will not put upon its final passage before next month.

FOOTBALL RUDE: WITH A DRIFT.

Man Who Can Play Is Denied Right by His Father.

From Oklahoma.

Sam Lefever former fullback of Michigan's second football team and until last Thursday a candidate for Bennet Owens' school is now seeking entrance to Epworth's medical school.

Parental objections to football playing are the reasons for Lefever's many changes of schools. His father thinks it a rude rough game.

While at Michigan young Lefever entered into the sport with vim and was accounted one of the best men on the second squad. This summer Michigan, Purdue, Illinois and Chicago fairly bombarded him with letters and his father learned that the son was playing football.

This college career in Michigan was cut short and Dr Lefever the father went to Chicago on a trip. Then the son met the son to enter Oklahoma and he was slated for fullback against Kansas but again the father stepped in and one day before the Kansas Oklahoma contest Sam Lefever was taken from school and hurried to his home in Ada.

Now he is in Oklahoma City and said to become a doctor by studying in Epworth's medical school.

He will not play football so his father says, although Coach Walter Chorn would like to have him in his lineup next Friday when the Methodist meet the Sooners at Colcord park.

Big Birds on Small Wings.

In the attempt to discover some universal law of bird flight, scientists have disclosed a most puzzling paradox, perhaps the most mysterious of the enigmas that the subject presents, says a writer in Everybody's Magazine. It is that in a number of birds and insects the size of the wings decreases in proportion to the increase in size of the body of the flying creature. The Australian crane, for instance, weighs over 300 times more than the sparrow, but in proportion as only one-seventh the wing area of the smaller bird. This curious fact is equally striking if we compare birds with insects. If the crane were increased in size until it was as large as the Australian crane and if the wings of the insect were enlarged to maintain the proportion they now bear to its body, they would be about 150 times larger than the crane's. It requires 3.62 square feet of wing area per pound to float the bank-swallow, but to sustain the tawny vulture, a monster bird in comparison, requires only .68 of a square foot of wing surface per pound of body. The albatross, weighing 18 pounds, has a spread of wing of 11 feet and 6 inches, while the trumpeter swan, weighing 28 pounds, has a spread of wing of only eight feet. The stork weighs eight times more than the pigeon, but in proportion has only half as much wing surface.

Theodore Shouts reaches up into some mysterious store of universal information and, having grabbed off a handful of more or less canned wisdom, lays down a few qualities that a map should have before a girl should think of marrying him, says Chicago News. Briefly, the description of the only man fitted for wedlock is this: He should be perfect mentally, morally and physically and also be some pumpkin financially. Mr. Shouts may be right, but as there are only a few for that kind of man would first take a bargain counter, the great majority of the girls will have to accept husbands with a few flaws or go single. Of course the girl who was waiting for that kind of man would first take the trouble to be perfect herself, but that might be a simple matter for her. Even then she might be happy with a man having imperfections provided she was too polite to notice them. The sensible girl figures it out that the best she can get is the average man and makes up her mind to be happy with him if he will let her.

The Simple Life.

Wellington was one of the earliest exponents of the simple life. His sleeping chamber was plainness and simplicity itself. He always slept on a small camp-bed, was ever temperate and careless in his diet, and frequently stated that he believed his good health was due to the three years he spent under canvas in India, when he ate little but rice and drank scarcely any wine, says the New York Weekly. He continued to eat rice to the day of his death. He ate it with meat and almost with everything, and his intimate friends took care always to place a dish of rice on the table when he dined with them. He scarcely knew one wine from another, and could not discern bad butter from good. His indifference to the matter of food was proverbial, a contrast to the present day, when diet forms one of the principal subjects of conversations.

Shipping men of both sides of the Atlantic have been much gratified by the announcement that the treasury department is making bids for the derelict destroyer, which was authorized by the latest congress. This vessel, which is to be stationed on the North Atlantic, will embody the latest improvements in craft of her kind, and will be capable of cruising for 6,000 miles without replenishing her bunkers. She will be furnished, the Scientific American says, with powerful searchlights and a wireless telegraph equipment, the latter to enable her to receive and give information as to the location of derelicts.

A 54-foot residence lot in New York is described by a local paper as "tremendously large." That may be a good sized frontage for little old New York, but it would be cramped quarters in the west, where people really live.

An accommodating scientist has evolved a tablet which will enable every one to be his own brewer. But there is one serious trouble with this tablet beer. It has to be kept on ice, and few people are able to take their ice wagon around with them.

Since it has been discovered that a lady burglar was doing a very active line of business until she was halted by the police will timid bachelors feel obliged to look under the bed every night before turning in?

ARE PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS NOSTRUMS?

To one not qualified, and few laymen are, to discriminate intelligently between physicians' prescriptions, proprietary medicines and nostrums, it may seem little short of a crime to hint even that physicians' prescriptions are in any manner related to nostrums; nevertheless, an impartial examination of all the facts in the case leads irresistibly to the conclusion that every medicinal preparation compounded and dispensed by a physician is, in the strict sense of the word, a nostrum, and that the average, ready-prepared proprietary remedy is superior to the average specially-prepared physicians' prescription.

What is a nostrum? According to the Standard Dictionary a nostrum is "a medicine the composition of which is kept a secret." Now, when a physician compounds and dispenses with his own hands a remedy for the treatment of a disease—and it is authoritatively stated that probably 60 per cent. of all physicians' prescriptions in this country are so dispensed—the names and quantities of the ingredients which constitute the remedy are not made known to the patient. Hence, since its composition is kept a secret by the physician, the remedy or prescription is unquestionably, in the true meaning of the word, a Simon-pure nostrum. Furthermore, the prescription compounded by the average physician is more than likely to be a perfect jumble—replete with therapeutic, physiologic and chemical incompatibilities and bearing all the earmarks of pharmaceutical incompetence; for it is now generally admitted that unless a physician has made a special study of pharmacy and passed some time in a drug store for the purpose of gaining a practical knowledge of modern pharmaceutical methods, he is not fitted to compound remedies for his patients. Moreover, a physician who compounds his own prescriptions not only deprives the pharmacist of his just emoluments, but he endangers the lives of patients; for it is only by the detection and elimination of errors in prescriptions by clever, competent prescriptionists that the safety of the public can be effectually shielded from the criminal blunders of ignorant physicians.

Nor can it be said that the average physician is any more competent to formulate a prescription than he is to compound it. When memorized or directly copied from a book of "favorite prescriptions by famous physicians," or from some text-book or medical journal, the prescription may be all that it should be. It is only when the physician is required to originate a formula on the spur of the moment that his incompetency is distinctly evident. Seemingly, however, the physicians of the United States are little worse than the average British physician; for we find Dr. James Burnett, lecturer on Practical Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Edinburgh, lamenting in the Medical Magazine the passing of the prescription and bemoaning the fact that seldom does he find a "final man" able to devise a prescription even in "good contracted Latin."

And what, it may be asked, is the status of the written prescription—the prescription that is compounded and dispensed by the pharmacist—is it, too, a nostrum? It may be contended that the patient, with the written formula in his possession, may learn the character of the remedy prescribed. So, possibly, he might if he understood Latin and were a physician or a pharmacist, but as he usually possesses no professional training and cannot read Latin, the prescription is practically a dead secret to him. Furthermore, the average prescription is so badly written and so greatly abbreviated that even the pharmacist, skilled as he usually is in deciphering medical hieroglyphs, is constantly obliged to interview prescribers to find out what actually has been prescribed. It may also be contended, that inasmuch as the formula is known to both physician and pharmacist the prescription cannot therefore be a secret. But with equal truth it might be contended that the formula of any so-called nostrum is not a secret since it is known to both proprietor and manufacturer; for it must not be forgotten that, according to reliable authority, 95 per cent. of the proprietors of so-called patent medicines prepared in this country have their remedies made for them by large, reputable manufacturing pharmacists. But even should a patient be able to recognize the names of the ingredients mentioned in a formula he would only know half the story. It is seldom, for instance, that alcohol is specifically mentioned in a prescription, for it is usually masked in the form of tinctures and fluid extracts, as are a great many other substances. It is evident, therefore, that the ordinary formulated prescription is, to the average patient, little less than a secret remedy or nostrum.

On the other hand, the formulae of nearly all the proprietary medicines that are exploited exclusively to the medical profession as well as those of a large percentage of the proprietary remedies that are advertised to the public (the so-called patent medicines) are published in full. Under the Food and Drugs Act, every medicinal preparation entering interstate commerce is now required to have the proportion or quantity of alcohol, opium, cocaine and other habit-forming or harmful ingredients which it may contain plainly printed on the label. As physicians' prescriptions seldom or never enter interstate commerce they are practically exempt under the law. And if it be necessary for the public to know the composition of proprietary remedies, as is contended by those who through ignorance or for mercenary reasons are opposing the sale of all household remedies, why is it not equally necessary for patients to know the composition of the remedy prescribed by a physician? Does any sane person believe that the opium in a physician's prescription is less potent or less likely to create a drug habit than the opium in a proprietary medicine? As a matter of fact, more opium-addicts and cocaine-fetters have been made through the criminal carelessness of ignorant physicians than by any other means.

Unquestionably, there are a number of proprietary remedies on the market the sales of which should be prohibited, and no doubt they will be when the requirements of the Food and Drugs Act are rigidly enforced; many are frauds, pure and simple, and some are decidedly harmful. Of the average proprietary remedy, however, it may truthfully be said that it is distinctly better than the average physician's prescription; for not only is its composition less secret, but it is prepared for the proprietor by reputable manufacturing pharmacists in magnificently equipped laboratories and under the supervision and advice of able chemists, competent physicians and skillful pharmacists. It should not be considered strange, therefore, that so many physicians prefer to prescribe these ready-prepared proprietary remedies rather than trust those of their own devising.

ALL RELIGIONS IN LONDON.

Faithist Community Latest Addition to Its Queer Sects.

The Faithist community which has established a modest footing in Balam, and whose comprehensive gospel ranges from the creation of man to the "glory and labors of the gods and goddesses of the Etherian heavens," is the latest addition to the long list of London's religious sects, which are now almost as many as the days of the year. In London the Chinaman burns his incense stick in more than one joss-house in the east end, the Mahometan has his mosque, the Malayan his temple, near St. George's street east; the Parsees worship the sun in Bloomsbury, the Mormons have a mission in Islington, and in many parts of the metropolis the Buddhists and Ancestor Worshipers perform their strange rites. Of Christian sects in London there are at least 300, including the Cokelers, the disciples of William Sirgood, the Walworth shoe-maker; the Peculiar People, who prefer prayer to physicians; the Sandemanians, the followers of Joanna Southcott, the prophetic serving maid; the Shakers and the Seventh Day Baptists.

WOMEN IN MEDIEVAL TIMES.

In Many Ways They Had Easier Lives Than Their Descendants.

The women of the sixteenth century and earlier times had easier lives than those of our generation. To be sure, there are a hundred labor saving devices to-day which were unknown to them. But in at least two important respects they had the advantage over their descendants. They waged no conflict against dirt such as we carry on from morning till night. The Elizabethan had no prejudice against garbage in his front yard, vermin in his bedroom, decaying rushes on the floor of his banquet hall, or soiled lace in his sleeves. The strength of arm and spirit which now goes to keeping clean was left to the medieval lady for other tasks. Moreover, although her clothing was gorgeous—rich with embroidery and lace, and heavy with jewels—it was not subject to rapid changes of fashion. The cut of a sleeve or the hang of a skirt was settled for five years rather than five months. Life was then free from the modern terror of "looking like a last year's rag bag."—Youth's Companion.

THE LOAD OF THE LAZY.

This Man Worked Hard in His Own Particular Way.

One of the neighborhood loafers sat comfortably smoking his foul pipe, according to his daily custom, in the prescription room of a drug store. He was soliloquizing aloud to the clerk. Here is a sample of his sound, contented philosophy: "I'll tell you what! A man is mighty miserable if he ain't got nothin' to do, when he ain't workin' at somethin'. I know it—I've tried both ways an' I find that there ain't nothin' that makes a man more miserable than doin' nothin'. But, you know, there's two kinds of work; one of them is where a feller goes to work at six in the mornin' an' works with his hands till six at night. The other is where a feller sits around an' thinks. I ain't never happy unless I'm workin', but I don't believe in that first kind of work. I believe in thinkin' all day long, an' that's harder than the other kind, I can tell you—you just try it if you don't believe me; a man is mighty miserable when he ain't workin'."

In Praise of the Pie. Laura Simmons tells in an article why good New Englanders should stick to pie, and calls attention to the fact that Emerson ate it three times a day, and says that pie is the ladder by which New England has climbed to its place of proud eminence. She questions whether any sensible person was ever known to forgo at the midnight hour for predigested cereals or the innocuous prunes. She does not believe that many New England ancestors died of apoplexy, due to pie, but counsels all to go on pie-eating, despite the fact that the fat has gone forth that it is vulgar to eat pie.

TRY THIS ASPARAGUS LOAF.

New and Delicious Way of Preparing the Vegetable.

Cook three cups of asparagus tips until tender, then drain. Cream two teaspoons each of flour and butter; add one-half teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and a cup of hot milk. Add the milk slowly, stirring all the time. Cook for five minutes. Remove from the range; add four well-beaten eggs, a cup of asparagus tips and a teaspoon of chopped parsley. Butter well a small bowl and line it with the remainder of the asparagus tips. If the tips will not adhere readily to the sides of the bowl dip them in the sauce. Now pour in the asparagus and sauce; cover with a piece of oiled paper; stand bowl in hot water and cook in cool oven for 15 minutes. Turn out of the bowl and serve with the following sauce:

Beat two teaspoons of butter to a cream; beat in the yolks of two eggs, one at a time, and beat with the butter very thoroughly. Add also a few grains of the salt and pepper. Place the bowl containing this over hot water and add slowly a cup and a half of boiling water. As soon as the mixture thickens remove and add a tablespoon of lemon juice.

DIRECTIONS FOR VEAL SAVORY.

Is Appetizing Dish if Prepared in Proper Manner.

Veal savory, according to Vogue, is after these directions: Cut three pounds of raw veal and half as much ham into small pieces. Cut six hard-boiled eggs into slices, lay part of them in the bottom of a well-buttered earthenware dish (it must be rather deep), sprinkle with a little minced parsley, then put in a layer of the veal and ham, with salt and pepper to season. Proceed with these alternate layers until all is used, then add just enough water to cover it, and one tablespoonful of butter rolled in one tablespoonful of flour and divided into tiny portions, dotted over the top. Tie a buttered paper over the dish and bake one hour or a little longer in a good oven. Remove the paper, lay a plate over the meat with a weight to keep it in place and let it remain another hour in a very slow oven. When quite cold turn it out on a silver dish and garnish with small lettuce leaves filled with a spoonful of cold cooked peas dressed with a little mayonnaise.

Egg Salad.

While this is a little too hearty for a dinner salad, it is just the thing for the Sunday night supper. Boil the eggs hard, remove the shells, cut in halves crosswise or lengthwise, and take out the yolks. Mash the yolks, using a silver fork; then season with the minced chow-chow with a little of the mustard sauce from the bottle, a little melted butter, salt and pepper, and if desired minced olives. Return to the whites of eggs, arrange on a bed of lettuce or cress, dress with French dressing or mayonnaise. If no olives have been used in filling of the eggs, a few olives or pinpoints scattered over the salad add to its decoration.

Nasturtium Salad.

This is a delightfully spicy salad and most decorative for the Sunday or company dinner. Pick a goodly number of leaves and blossoms, wash well in cold water and shake dry. Arrange in a shallow glass dish, leaves and flowers forming a border and stems running to the center of the dish. Take two or three cold boiled potatoes and slice thin. Take an equal number of tomatoes and slice. Then arrange potatoes and tomatoes in alternate circles, covering the stems of the nasturtiums and sprinkle with a little minced onion and parsley. Dress with French dressing and serve very cold.

To Can Beets.

Small beets are the best for canning. Wash as for present use, and leave an inch of stalk at top to prevent bleeding. Boil in slightly salted water; peel as for the table. Have ready in a neighboring saucepan enough cider vinegar to cover the beets. You must use your own judgment as to quantity. To each quart of vinegar add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of strained onion juice and a teaspoonful each of pepper and salt. Bring the beets while hot into heated cans and cover with the vinegar from the boiling saucepan.

Raspberry Popovers.

Beat three eggs light, but not as light as for cake; add two cupfuls of milk and beat again, then add two cupfuls of sifted flour, a little salt and beat all smooth. Pour into hot buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven. Take from the oven when done and with a sharp knife split one side and fill with sweetened raspberries. Dust powdered sugar over and serve at once.

Stuffed Red Peppers.

Cut some large red peppers into half lengthwise, and take out the seeds; make two cupfuls of fine, soft bread crumbs, moisten with half a cup of cream, season with salt and pepper, and add two chopped fresh mushrooms or more. Put into a shallow pan, drop a bit of butter on each, and bake till light brown.—Harper's Bazar.

Keep Pie Juice from Running.

When baking fruit pies take a strip of white muslin, about an inch and a half wide. Dip it in ice water; put it around the edge of the pie, and not one drop of juice will escape. The cloth easily is removed after pie is baked.

FULLY UP WITH THE TIMES.

Oklahoma City Surprised Narrow-Minded New Yorker.

Oklahoma amazes an easterner. The wide, asphalted streets, the plate glass fronts of department stores, the clean sidewalks, the well-dressed, unburied shoppers, the finish, the metropolitan air you find in Oklahoma City, for example, seem marvels to find in a territory only 17 years old. But do not say so.

A New Yorker who went there on business complained that fate was thrusting him into a wilderness, and his Oklahoma associates could not reassure him. But coming down to breakfast the first morning, at his hotel in Oklahoma City, he stared around in wonder as he entered the dining-room.

"This," he exclaimed, "this is Oklahoma! Why, do you know?" confidently, "I even found a porcelain bathtub in my room."

"Well," said an Oklahoman, drily, "don't you have those in New York?"

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING.

Rash Covered Face and Feet—Would Cry Until Tired Out—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most, especially nights. They would cause her to be broken in her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm, as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Mrs. Hattie Currier, Thomaston, Me., June 9, 1906."

He Was Not to Blame.

Little Bartholomew's mother overheard him swearing like a mule driver, says the Cleveland Leader. He displayed a fluency that overwhelmed her. She took him to task, explaining the wickedness of profanity as well as its vulgarity. She asked him where he had learned all those dreadful words. Bartholomew announced that Cavert, one of his playmates, had taught him. Cavert's mother was straightway informed and Cavert was brought to book. He vigorously denied having instructed Bartholomew, and neither threats nor tears could make him confess. At last he burst out: "I didn't tell Bartholomew any cuss words. Why should I know how to cuss any better than he does? Hasn't his father got an automobile, too?"

The Manchester canal was built at a cost of $75,000,000 to reduce freight rates for a distance of 35 miles, and, while it did not prove a good interest bearing investment on such a large expenditure, its indirect and more permanent benefits are said to have warranted it.

Germany has 3,000 miles of canal, carefully maintained, besides 7,000 miles of other waterway. France, with an area less than we would consider a large state, has 3,000 miles of canal; and in the northern part, where the canals are most numerous, the railways are more prosperous. England, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium are all contemplating further extension and improvement of their canal systems.—Century Magazine.

Punishment by Inches.

A Bergen (Genesee county) justice of the peace has adopted an original scheme for the dispensation of justice. Henry Meyer, 27 years old and seven feet two inches tall, was a prisoner in his court for stealing four bags of oats. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail, one day for each inch of stature and one for each bag.—Nunda (N. Y.) News.

WHAT'S THE USE?

To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy.

Fasters have gone without food for many days at a time but no one can go without sleep. "For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman.

"Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drunk coffee and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it."

"My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach and I would often notice him getting soda from the can to relieve the distress in his stomach; lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief."

"Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee and since then has been drinking Postum in its place and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach."

Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it. Coffee is not suspected in thousands of cases just like this but it's easily proved. A ten day's trial works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Rule of Cornish Chapels.

In Cornish (Eng.) chapels the invariable rule is for the men to sit on one side of the building and the women on the other.

A visitor and his fiancée, who are staying in the district, went to chapel, and just before the service began the young man was greatly astonished when the chapel steward, observing that the couple were seated in the same pew, came over to him and, in an audible voice, said: "Come on out of that, me son; we don't ave no sweethearts in 'ere."

Fresh Fuel.

The scrap between the married couple had died down to a few listless mutterings, and the canary bird in the cage was beginning to think about singing again, when she remarked, as a sort of afterthought:

"At any rate, everybody in my family thinks I am very intelligent."

"Yes, by the side of them you are," he replied with a bitter snort.

After this the scrap was renewed jubilantly.

BRYAN WOULD RUN AGAIN.

Reported He Will Issue Letter to That Effect.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—That William Jennings Bryan will, about the middle of November, issue a letter stating that if it is the wish of the democratic national convention that he should make the race for the presidency he will accept the post of standard bearer, was the information which reached St. Louis last night from an absolutely authoritative source.

In connection with the plans of Mr. Bryan, it is stated that Gov. Joseph W. Folk in a few days will announce his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Senator William J. Stone, Democrats, who have admired Gov. Folk for sending bootleggers to the penitentiary and for sending others out of the United States to escape indictment and for his attitude on state's rights, had hoped that he would become the democratic candidate for president. Friends close to the chief executive, however, declare that the governor has repeatedly stated to them that he would not permit the use of his name in connection with the presidency as long as Mr. Bryan was being urged as the nominee.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 22.—During the week many Oklahoma politicians will go to Washington. They go principally in regard to federal appointments in the new state, the federal judgeships being the principal plums to be doled out.

Bird S. McGuire, the only republican elected to congress, State Chairman Charles Hunter and Joseph H. Norris, chairman of McGuire's campaign committee, leave today and will be followed soon afterward by Chief Justice John H. Burford, Gov. Frank Frantz, Judge W. H. H. Clayton of McAlester, Attorney General Cromwell and others.

Burford and Cromwell are the two principal candidates now for the federal judgeship in the western district of Oklahoma, and Clayton is active in the eastern district with numerous other aspirants. McGuire has endorsed Burford and Frantz is understood to be for Cromwell.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

House of Two New Lines to Traverse New State.

Lawton, Ok., Oct. 22.—The Lawton, Wichita and Northwestern railroad, connecting Lawton with Wichita Falls, Tex., will soon become a reality. J. M. Bellamy, president of the road, with headquarters in Lawton, is now displaying the profiles and specifications to contractors, preparatory to receiving bids for the grading contracts. The engineers have just finished the work on the new right of way that becomes necessary when the route was changed to run through Randall, in the Big Pasture. When the original survey placed Randall it quickly raised $15,000 bonus to be paid when the road is completed. The money is now on deposit.

President Bellamy says he expects to begin grading work by Dec. 1. The road will not only connect Lawton with the big scope of country in the pasture reserve, but give a competing line into this city. The Katy is said to be back of the proposition, and that insures Lawton's direct communication with North Texas and the coal fields of Indian Territory. There will be two towns on the line in the Indian reserve land, Randall and Emerson. Emerson was recently platted and sold by a townsite company.

This road connects with the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railroad, another branch now building into Frederick from Wichita Falls.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 21.—Thieves entered the First Presbyterian church here last night and stole the "Bibles Pennies" amounting to between $25 and $75. It was discovered this afternoon.

This was a fund donated to the church by the babies and children of the congregation on their birthdays. Each child would on its birthday bring a penny for each year and this was allowed to accumulate in a small deposit safe in the church. The safe was to be opened on New Year's Day. The money had accumulated since the first of the year and the church officers do not know just what the total amount was.

ENTITLED TO TWO MORE CONGRESSMEN.

The government's special census shows the state of Oklahoma entitled to two more congressmen than the five recently elected. Just at present the people will be mighty glad to see the five seated in the national body, but when once statehood is secured long-suffering Oklahomans will be disposed to go after everything coming to them.

Judge W. A. Ledbetter, of Ardmore, thus calls attention to the state's deserved representation in congress:

"The basis of representation is one congressman for each 195,000 inhabitants. The recent special census shows the new state to have a total population of 1,408,000. This clearly entitles us to seven members of congress. I am convinced that the proper effort on the part of our congressmen will secure for us the right to elect two additional congressmen at the next general election, which will be necessary for them to be elected from the state at large until after the next general census, when the state can be reapportioned. I believe that the additional representation can be secured, and that by mutual agreement between the two political parties one of the candidates from each party should come from either of the two territories that are to be merged in a state."

Don't neglect attending that mass meeting at the court house Tuesday night. That meeting should be the starter for a mighty movement for the removal of restrictions. With a strong lobby to help our congressmen bombard the coming congress the anguish of this fair land should be abated ere the winter is over.

Plans of McGuire.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 22.—Bird S. McGuire, congressman-elect from the first Oklahoma district, who departed yesterday for Washington, announced that he would pursue a fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission this winter looking to a reduction of freight rates in the new state. He will also urge the removal of restrictions on all Indian lands save the individual homestead, which would render the lands subject to taxation.

Mr. McGuire announced that he would personally take up the candidacy of Dr. Hugh Scott for appointment as Indian agent at Anadarko, succeeding the late John Blackman. He will be supported in this by Gov. Prantz, who also leaves shortly for Washington. Dr. Scott has been private secretary to Delegate McGuire, and is now private secretary to Governor Prantz.

It is also announced that Mr. McGuire will press for appointment as United States judge in the Western District of Oklahoma Judge Burford, who also has the endorsement of the Illinois and Indiana delegations in congress. When Gov. Prantz goes to Washington this week he will urge the appointment of W. C. Cromwell, present attorney general of Oklahoma. Cromwell is said to have the backing of the republican organization in the new state. State Chairman Hunter wants to be clerk of the new federal court, and it is understood he is pooling his forces with Prantz in the endorsement of Cromwell. Hunter was in the president's rough rider regiment. In addition to the contest over the federal judgeship, both the governor and the congressman-elect desire the minority republican caucus nomination for the first legislature for United States senator.

The judgeship situation in the eastern district has not changed. There have been numerous delegations here seeking endorsements for Prantz, but it is known that he has uniformly denied all. If the Governor has determined on a man for the eastern district, he has not made it public.

Judge W. H. H. Cayton of McAlester, who is a member of the certifying board on the constitution, is an applicant, and will accompany Gov. Prantz to Washington in the delivery of Oklahoma's constitution.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING STAMPS

Son of Postmaster at Hart Confesses Theft of $50 Worth.

Monday night Postoffice Inspector Atkinson, of this district, brought in and delivered to the federal authorities in Ada, the 14-year-old son of ex-Postmaster Hart, who had confessed the theft of $50 worth of stamps from the postoffice at Hart, this county.

Following the youth's directions the stamps were found in a pile of cotton where he had concealed them.

The postoffice was burglarized and the stamps taken Sept. 9. Soon afterward the boy got to corresponding considerably with advertisers, and sending stamps away for all sorts of advertised trinkets, to such an extent as to arouse the suspicions of the local postmaster who informed the inspector. As a result one of his letters was intercepted, and when accosted by the officer he broke down and confessed all.

Waiving arraignment and pleading guilty the young prisoner was held to await action of the grand jury now sitting at Pauls Valley, his bond being set at $500.

Joe Hart is the name of the boy's father, one of the best citizens of the Hart community.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first led Dr. Shoop in the treatment of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sultry complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

Two other ordinances were read for the first time. One attempts to restrain the enthusiasm of cabmen and street vendors at railroad stations. The other is aimed against spitting, drinking and other objectionable conduct in public places.

A budget of bills aggregating about $250 against the city was allowed.

The appointment of another watchman to succeed J. B. Gotcher resigned coming up the names of A. P. Holman and S. H. Hargis were presented as applicants. ### BAPTIST PAPER TO BE PUBLISHED IN ADA

Another paper for Ada is to materialize in the very near future. It is not a secular publication, but a religious weekly, projected as the organ of the Baptist denomination in the new state of Oklahoma, and to be christened the Oklahoma Baptist Journal.

The enterprise has its origin with leading Baptists of Ada including both ministers and laymen who realize the pressing need of a state denominational paper. It is hoped to place the project strong on its feet when the state Baptist convention meets in Ardmore Oct. 31 by means of organizing a joint stock company.

In order to stir up enthusiasm in this undertaking the initial number of the paper will be printed next week 5000 copies to be mailed out and distributed at the convention. A. M. Croxton will be the temporary editor. Mr. Croxton Revs. T. B. Harrell and D. J. Austin Henry M. Furman and Carlton Weaver are the prime movers in the enterprise. They have issued a prospectus in the form of a circular letter giving details of the plan which has been mailed to Baptist people throughout the state.

The News Printing company has agreed to publish the Journal at actual cost and the above named gentlemen guarantee the publication of the paper for one year. The Baptists need a state paper. Ada is a good place to publish it in and to the credit of Ada, he it said there resides here in Ada Baptists of talent men of ample ability to conduct and manage a denominational organ creditable to the church and to the state.

WHITE MULETEERS MAY KICK

City Ordinance Introduced Which Tends Strongly Toward Prohibition.

At last night's session of the city council, City Attorney T. P. Holt submitted an ordinance on general cleanliness which contains a notable clause. Beginning with an innocent and ordinary prohibition of spitting on stairways and other public places, there follows this interesting section:

"Section 2—That it shall be unlawful for any person to resort to the stairways or halls of the public buildings or to the water closets in said city of Ada, for the purpose of drinking 'Tin Top', 'Uno', 'White Mule', or any other like drink, so called Territorial drinks.

And the offense is made punishable by a fine of any sum not exceeding $10.

This section two is likely to raise a storm of protest among the dissemblers who will view this regulation as an unwarranted extension of the prohibition law, a tyrannical encroachment upon the last vestige of personal liberty in Indian Territory. For, through immemorial usage, by right of prescription so to speak, has not the down town closet become recognized as the white mule garage the Peruna club house the hoozer's buffet? Indeed it might be argued that many of these closets are not fit for anything else.

There will be ample time, however for those dissatisfied with this rigorous measure to file their protest. The ordinance will not put upon its final passage before next month.

FOOTBALL RUDE:

YOUTH A DRIFTER

Man Who Can Play Is Denied Right by His Father.

From Oklahoma.

Sam Lefever former fullback of Michigan's second football team and until last Thursday a candidate for Bennie Owen's Sooners is now seeking entrance to Epworth's medical school.

Parental objections to football playing are the reason for Lefever's many changes of schools. His father thinks it a rude rough game.

While at Michigan young Lefever entered into the sport with vim and was accounted one of the best men on Yost's second squad. This summer Michigan, Purdue, Illinois and Chicago fairly bombarded him with letters and his father learned that the son was playing football.

His college career in Michigan was cut short and Dr. Lefever the father went to Chicago on a trip. Then the Sooners put the son to enter Oklahoma and he was slated for fullback against Kansas but again the pater stepped in and one day before the Kansas Oklahoma contest Sam Lefever was taken from school and hurried to his home in Ada.

Now he is in Oklahoma City and said to become a doctor by studying in Epworth's medical school.

He will not play football so his father says, although Coach Walter Chorn would like to have him in his line-up next Friday when the Methodist meet the Sooners at Colcord park.

Big Birds on Small Wings.

In the attempt to discover some universal law of bird flight, scientists have disclosed a most puzzling paradox, perhaps the most mysterious of the enigmas that the subject presents, says a writer in Everybody's Magazine. It is that in a number of birds and insects the size of the wings decreases in proportion to the increase in size of the body of the flying creature. The Australian crane, for instance, weighs over 300 times more than the sparrow, but in proportion has only one-seventh the wing area of the smaller bird. This curious fact is equally striking if we compare birds with insects. If the goat were increased in size until it was as large as the Australian crane and if the wings of the insect were enlarged to maintain the proportion they now bear to its body, they would be about 150 times larger than the crane's. It requires 3.62 square feet of wing area per pound to float the bark swallow, but to sustain the tawny vulture, a monstrous bird in comparison requires only .68 of a square foot of wing surface per pound of body. The albatross weighing 18 pounds has a spread of wing of 11 feet and 6 inches, while the trumpeter swan, weighing 28 pounds has a spread of wing of only eight feet. The stork weighs eight times more than the pigeon but in proportion has only half as much wing surface.

Theodore Shouts reaches up into some mysterious store of universal information and having grabbed off a handful of more or less canned wisdom lays down a few qualities that a man should have before a girl should think of marrying him, says Chicago News. Briefly the description of the only man fitted for wedlock is this: He should be perfect mentally, morally and physically and also be some pumpkin financially. Mr. Shouts may be tight but as there are only a few for that kind of man would first take a bargain counter the great majority of the girls will have to accept husbands with a few flaws or go single. Of course the girl who was waiting for that kind of man would first take the trouble to be perfect herself but that might be a simple matter for her. Even then she might be happy with a man having imperfections provided she was too polite to notice them. The sensible girl figures it out that the best she can get is the average man and makes up her mind to be happy with him if he will let her.

The Simple Life.

Wellington was one of the earliest exponents of the simple life. His sleeping chamber was plainness and simplicity itself. He always slept on a small camp bed was ever temperate and careless in his diet and frequently stated that he believed his good health was due to the three years he spent under canvas in India, when he ate little but rice and drank scarcely any wine, says the New York Weekly. He continued to eat rice to the day of his death. He ate it with meat and almost with everything and his intimate friends took care always to place a dish of rice on the table when he dined with them. He scarcely knew one wine from another and could not discern bad butter from good. His indifference to the matter of food was proverbial a contrast to the present day when diet forms one of the principal subjects of conversation.

Shipping men of both sides of the Atlantic have been much gratified by the announcement that the treasury department is adding for bids for the derelict destroyer which was authorized by the latest congress. This vessel, which is to be stationed on the North Atlantic will embody the latest improvements in craft of her kind, and will be capable of cruising for 6,000 miles without replenishing her bunkers. She will be furnished, the Scientific American says, with powerful searchlights and a wireless telegraph equipment, the latter to enable her to receive and give information as to the location of derelicts.

A 54-foot residence lot in New York is described by a local paper as "tremendously large." That may be a good sized frontage for little old New York but it would be cramped quarters in the west, where people really live.

An accommodating scientist has evolved a tablet which will enable every one to be his own brewer. But there is one serious trouble with this tabloid beer. It has to be kept on ice, and few people are able to take their ice wagon around with them.

Since it has been discovered that a lady burglar was doing a very active line of business until she was halted by the police, will timid bachelors feel obliged to look under the bed every night before turning in?

ARE PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS NOSTRUMS?

To one not qualified, and few laymen are, to discriminate intelligently between physicians' prescriptions, proprietary medicines and nostrums, it may seem little short of a crime to hint even that physicians' prescriptions are in any manner related to nostrums; nevertheless, an impartial examination of all the facts in the case leads irresistibly to the conclusion that every medicinal preparation compounded and dispensed by a physician is, in the strict sense of the word, a nostrum, and that the average, ready-prepared proprietary remedy is superior to the average specially-prepared physicians' prescription.

What is a nostrum? According to the Standard Dictionary a nostrum is "a medicine the composition of which is kept a secret." Now, when a physician compounds and dispenses with his own hands a remedy for the treatment of a disease—and it is authoritatively stated that probably 40 per cent. of all physicians' prescriptions in this country are so dispensed—the names and quantities of the ingredients which constitute the remedy are not made known to the patient. Hence, since its composition is kept a secret by the physician, the remedy or prescription is unquestionably, in the true meaning of the word, a Simon-pure nostrum. Furthermore, the prescription compounded by the average physician is more than likely to be a perfect jumble—replete with therapeutic, physiologic and chemical incompatibilities and bearing all the earmarks of pharmaceutical incompetence, for it is now generally admitted that unless a physician has made a special study of pharmacy and passed some time in a drug store for the purpose of gaining a practical knowledge of modern pharmaceutical methods, he is not fitted to compound remedies for his patients. Moreover, a physician who compounds his own prescriptions not only deprives the pharmacist of his just emoluments but he endangers the lives of patients, for it is only by the detection and elimination of errors in prescriptions by clever, competent prescriptionists that the safety of the public can be effectually shielded from the criminal blunders of ignorant physicians.

Nor can it be said that the average physician is any more competent to formulate a prescription than he is to compound it. When memorized or directly copied from a book of favorite prescriptions by famous physicians, or from some textbook or medical journal, the prescription may be all that it should be. It is only when the physician is required to originate a formula on the spur of the moment that his incompetency is distinctly evident. Seemingly, however, the physicians of the United States are little worse than the average British physician, for we find Dr. James Burnett, lecturer on Practical Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Edinburgh, lamenting in the Medical Magazine the passing of the prescription and bemoaning the fact that seldom does he find a "final man" able to devise a prescription even in good contracted Latin.

And what it may be asked is the status of the written prescription—the prescription that is compounded and dispensed by the pharmacist—is it, too a nostrum? It may be contended that the patient with the written formula in his possession may learn the character of the remedy prescribed. So possibly he might if he understood Latin and were a physician or a pharmacist but as he usually possesses no professional training and cannot read Latin the prescription is practically a dead secret to him. Furthermore, the average prescription is so badly written and so greatly abbreviated that even the pharmacist, skilled as he usually is in deciphering medical hieroglyphs, is constantly obliged to interview prescribers to find out what actually has been prescribed. It may also be contended, that inasmuch as the formula is known to both physician and pharmacist the prescription cannot therefore be a secret. But with equal truth it might be contended that the formula of any so-called nostrum is not a secret since it is known to both proprietor and manufacturer, for it must not be forgotten that, according to reliable authority, 95 per cent. of the proprietors of so-called patent medicines prepared in this country have their remedies made for them by large, reputable manufacturing pharmacists. But even should a patient be able to recognize the names of the ingredients mentioned in a formula he would only know half the story. It is seldom, for instance, that alcohol is specifically mentioned in a prescription, for it is usually masked in the form of tinctures and fluid extracts, as are a great many other substances. It is evident, therefore, that the ordinary formulated prescription is, to the average patient, little less than a secret remedy or nostrum.

On the other hand, the formulas of nearly all the proprietary medicines that are exploited exclusively to the medical profession as well as those of a large percentage of the proprietary remedies that are advertised to the public (the so-called patent medicines) are published in full. Under the Food and Drugs Act, every medicinal preparation entering interstate commerce is now required to have the proportion or quantity of alcohol, opium, cocaine and other habit-forming or harmful ingredients which it may contain plainly printed on the label. As physicians' prescriptions seldom or never enter interstate commerce they are practically exempt under the law. And if it be necessary for the public to know the composition of proprietary remedies, as is contended by those who through ignorance or for mercenary reasons are opposing the sale of all household remedies, why is it not equally necessary for patients to know the composition of the remedy prescribed by a physician? Does any sane person believe that the opium in a physician's prescription is less potent or less likely to create a drug habit than the opium in a proprietary medicine? As a matter of fact, more opium-addicts and cocaine fiends have been made through the criminal carelessness of ignorant physicians than by any other means.

Unquestionably, there are a number of proprietary remedies on the market the sales of which should be prohibited, and no doubt they will be when the requirements of the Food and Drugs Act are rigidly enforced; many are frauds, pure and simple, and some are decidedly harmful. Of the average proprietary remedy, however, it may truthfully be said that it is distinctly better than the average physician's prescription; for not only is its composition less secret, but it is prepared for the proprietor by reputable manufacturing pharmacists in magnificently equipped laboratories and under the supervision and advice of able chemists, competent physicians and skillful pharmacists. It should not be considered strange, therefore, that so many physicians prefer to prescribe these ready-prepared proprietary remedies rather than trust those of their own devising.

ALL RELIGIONS IN LONDON.

Faithist Community Latest Addition to Its Queer Sects.

The Faithist community which has established a modest footing in Balham, and whose comprehensive gospel ranges from the creation of man to the glory and labors of the gods and goddesses of the Etherian heavens, is the latest addition to the long list of London's religious sects, which are now almost as many as the days of the year. In London the Chinaman burns his incense stick in more than one fane house in the east end, the Mahometan has his mosque, the Malayan his temple, near St. George's street east, the Parsees worship the sun in Bloomsbury, the Mormons have a mission in Islington, and in many parts of the metropolis the Buddhists and Ancestor Worshipers perform their strange rites. Of Christian sects in London there are at least 300, including the Cokelers the disciples of William Stroud the Walworth shoemaker the Peculiar People, who prefer prayer to physicians, the Sandemanians the followers of Joanna Southcott, the prophetic serving maid the Shakers and the Seventh Day Baptists.

WOMEN IN MEDIEVAL TIMES.

In Many Ways They Had Easier Lives Than Their Descendants.

The women of the sixteenth century and earlier times had easier lives than those of our generation. To be sure, there are a hundred labor saving devices to day which were unknown to them. But in at least two important respects they had the advantage over their descendants. They waged no conflict against dirt such as we carry on from morning till night. The Elizabethan had no prejudice against garbage in his front yard, vermin in his bedroom, decaying rushes on the floor of his banquet hall, or soiled lace in his sleeves. The strength of arm and spirit which now goes to keeping clean was left to the medieval lady for other tasks. Moreover, although her clothing was gorgeous—rich with embroidery and lace and heavy with jewels—it was not subject to rapid changes of fashion. The cut of a sleeve or the hang of a skirt was settled for five years rather than five months. Life was then free from the modern terror of "looking like a last year's rag bag."—Youths' Companion.

THE LOAD OF THE LAZY.

This Man Worked Hard in His Own Particular Way.

One of the neighborhood loafers sat comfortably smoking his foul pipe, according to his daily custom, in the prescription room of a drug store. He was soliloquizing aloud to the clerk. Here is a sample of his sound, contented philosophy. "I'll tell you what! A man is mighty miserable if he ain't got nothin' to do, when he ain't workin' at somethin'. I know it—I've tried both ways an' I find that there ain't nothin' that makes a man more miserable than doin' nothin'. But, you know, there's two kinds of work, one of them is where a feller goes to work at six in the mornin' an' works with his hands till six at night. The other is where a feller sits around an' thinks. I ain't never happy unless I'm workin', but I don't believe in that first kind of work. I believe in thinkin' all day long, an' that's harder than the other kind, I can tell you—you just try it if you don't believe me, a man is mighty miserable when he ain't workin'."

In Praise of the Pie.

Laura Simmons tells in an article why good New Englanders should stick to pie, and calls attention to the fact that Emerson ate it three times a day and says that pie is the ladder by which New England has climbed to its place of proud eminence. She questions whether any sensible person was ever known to forage at the midnight hour for predigested cereals or the innocuous prune. She does not believe that many New England ancestors died of apoplexy, due to pie, but counsels all to go on pie eating, despite the fact that the flat has gone forth that it is vulgar to eat pie.

TRY THIS ASPARAGUS LOAF.

New and Delicious Way of Preparing the Vegetable.

Cook three cups of asparagus tips until tender, then drain. Cream two teaspoons each of flour and butter; add one-half teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and a cup of hot milk. Add the milk slowly, stirring all the time. Cook for five minutes. Remove from the range, add four well beaten eggs, a cup of asparagus tips and a teaspoon of chopped parsley. Butter well a small bowl and line it with the remainder of the asparagus tips. If the tips will not adhere readily to the sides of the bowl dip them in the sauce. Now pour in the asparagus and sauce, cover with a piece of oiled paper, stand bowl in hot water and cook in cool oven for 15 minutes. Turn out of the bowl and serve with the following sauce.

Beat two teaspoons of butter to a cream, beat in the yolks of two eggs, one at a time, and beat with the butter very thoroughly. Add also a few grains of the salt and pepper. Place the bowl containing this over hot water and add slowly a cup and a half of boiling water. As soon as the mixture thickens remove and add a tablespoon of lemon juice.

DIRECTIONS FOR VEAL SAVORY.

Is Appetizing Dish If Prepared in Proper Manner.

Veal savory, according to Vogue, is after these directions. Cut three pounds of raw veal and half as much ham into small pieces. Cut six hard-boiled eggs into slices, lay part of them in the bottom of a well buttered earthenware dish (it must be rather deep), sprinkle with a little minced parsley then put in a layer of the veal and ham, with salt and pepper to season. Proceed with these alternate layers until all is used, then add just enough water to cover it, and one tablespoonful of butter rolled in one tablespoonful of flour and divided into tiny portions, dotted over the top. Tie a buttered paper over the dish and bake one hour or a little longer in a good oven. Remove the paper, lay a plate over the meat with a weight to keep it in place and let it remain another hour in a very slow oven. When quite cold turn it out on a silver dish and garnish with small lettuce leaves filled with a spoonful of cold cooked peas dressed with a little mayonnaise.

Egg Salad.

While this is a little too hearty for a dinner salad it is just the thing for the Sunday night supper. Roll the eggs hard remove the shells, cut in halves crosswise or lengthwise, and take out the yolks. Mash the yolks, using a silver fork then season with minced chowchow with a little of the mustard sauce from the bottle, a little melted butter, salt and pepper, and if desired minced olives. Return to the whites of eggs arrange on a bed of lettuce or cross dress with French dressing or mayonnaise. If no olives have been used in filling of the eggs, a few olives or pinolis scattered over the salad add to its decoration.

Nasturtium Salad.

This is a delightfully spicy salad and most decorative for the Sunday or company dinner. Pick a goodly number of leaves and blossoms, wash well in cold water and shake dry. Arrange in a shallow glass dish leaves and flowers forming a border and stems running to the center of the dish. Take two or three cold boiled potatoes and slice thin. Take an equal number of tomatoes and slice. Then arrange potatoes and tomatoes in alternate circles, covering the stems of the nasturtiums and sprinkle with a little minced onion and parsley. Dress with French dressing and serve very cold.

To Can Beets.

Small beets are the best for canning. Wash as for present use, and leave an inch of stalk at top to prevent bleeding. Boil in slightly salted water, peel as for the table. Have ready in a neighboring saucepan enough elder vinegar to cover the beets. You must use your own judgment as to quantity. To each quart of vinegar add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of strained onion juice and a teaspoonful each of pepper and salt. Bring the vinegar to the boil. Pack the beets while hot into heated cans and cover with the vinegar from the boiling saucepan.

Raspberry Popovers.

Beat three eggs light but not as light as for cake, add two cupfuls of milk and beat again then add two cupfuls of sifted flour, a little salt and beat all smooth. Pour into hot buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven. Take from the oven when done and with a sharp knife split one side and fill with sweetened raspberries. Dust powdered sugar over and serve at once.

Stuffed Red Peppers.

Cut some large red peppers into half lengthwise, and take out the seeds, make two cupfuls of fine, soft bread crumbs, moisten with half a cup of cream, season with salt and pepper, and add two chopped fresh mushrooms or more. Put into a shallow pan, drop a bit of butter on each, and bake till light brown.—Harper's Bazar.

Keep Pie Juice from Running. When baking fruit pies take a strip of white muslin, about an inch and a half wide. Dip it in iced water; put it around the edge of the pie, and not one drop of juice will escape. The cloth easily is removed after pie is baked.

FULLY UP WITH THE TIMES.

Oklahoma City Surprised Narrow-Minded New Yorker.

Oklahoma amazed an easterner. The wide, asphalted streets, the plate glass fronts of department stores, the clean sidewalks, the well-dressed, unburdened shoppers, the finish, the metropolitan air you find in Oklahoma City, for example, seem marvels to find in a territory only 17 years old. But do not say so.

A New Yorker who went there on business complained that fate was hustling him into a wilderness, and his Oklahoma associates could not reassure him. But coming down to breakfast the first morning, at his hotel in Oklahoma City, he stared around in wonder as he entered the dining-room.

"This," he exclaimed, "this is Oklahoma!" Why, do you know? confidentially, "I even found a porcelain bathtub in my room."

"Well," said an Oklahoman, drily, "don't you have those in New York?"

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING.

Rash Covered Face and Feet—Would Cry Until Tired Out—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most, especially nights. They would cause her to be broken in her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm, as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Mrs. Hattie Currier, Thomaston, Me., June 9, 1906."

He Was Not to Blame.

Little Bartholomew's mother overheard him swearing like a mule driver, says the Cleveland Leader. He displayed a fluency that overwhelmed her. She took him to task, explaining the wickedness of profanity as well as its vulgarity. She asked him where he had learned all those dreadful words. Bartholomew announced that Cavert, one of his playmates, had taught him. Cavert's mother was brought to book. He vigorously denied having instructed Bartholomew, and neither threats nor tears could make him confess. At last he burst out: "I didn't tell Bartholomew any cuss words. Why should I know how to cuss any better than he does? Hasn't his father got an automobile, too?"

The Manchester canal was built at a cost of $75,000,000 to reduce freight rates for a distance of 35 miles, and, while it did not prove a good interest bearing investment on such a large expenditure its indirect and more permanent benefits are said to have warranted it.

Germany has 3,000 miles of canal, carefully maintained, besides 7,000 miles of other waterway. France, with an area less than we would consider a large state, has 3,000 miles of canal, and in the northern part, where the canals are most numerous, the railways are more prosperous. England, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium are all contemplating further extension and improvement of their canal systems.—Century Magazine.

Punishment by Inches.

A Bergen (Genesee county) justice of the peace has adopted an original scheme for the dispensation of justice. Henry Meyer, 27 years old and seven feet two inches tall, was a prisoner in his court for stealing four bags of oats. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail, one day for each inch of stature and one for each bag.—Nunda (N. Y.) News.

WHAT'S THE USE?

To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy.

Fasters have gone without food for many days at a time but no one can go without sleep. For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman.

"Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drunk coffee and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it."

"My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach and I would often notice him getting soda from the can to relieve the distress in his stomach, lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief."

"Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee and since then has been drinking Postum in its place and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach."

Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it.

Coffee is not suspected in thousands of cases just like this but it's easily proved. A ten day trial works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Read the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Rule of Cornish Chapels. In Cornish (Eng.) chapels the variable rule is for the men to sit on one side of the building and the women on the other.

A visitor and his fiancée, who are staying in the district, went to chapel, and just before the service began the young man was greatly astonished when the chapel steward, observing that the couple were seated in the same pew, came over to him and, in an audible voice, said: "Come on out of that, me son; we don't 'ave no sweethearts' 'ere."

Fresh Fuel.

The scrap between the married couple had died down to a few listless mutterings, and the canary bird in the cage was beginning to think about singing again, when she remarked, as a sort of afterthought:

"At any rate, everybody in my family thinks I am very intelligent."

"Yes, by the side of them you are," he replied with a bitter snort.

After this the scrap was renewed jubilantly.
